From Bryan's baby book. This is Bryan's first picture taken on the day of his birth, August 12, 1996. He almost died the same day.

From Bryan's baby book I am holding Bryan one week old in the NICU at Fair Oaks Hospital 3600 Joseph Siewick Dr, Fairfax, VA 22033. The picture on the right is what developed in someone camera of a picture taken on Christmas morning of the Cross of Mt. Krizevak. The Medjugorje seers say that is what they see every Christmas morning. It was put in Bryan's book because they happened in a similar time frame.

The first paired pictures in Bryan’s baby book of The Servant of God Luisa Picaretta. Bryan has oxygen at night and his nasal feeding tube. Bryan refused to eat, details in his miracle story.

Another paired pictures of The Servant of God Luisa Picaretta and Bryan before as an infant before his healing.

Before healing: Bryan with his maternal grandmother, Berit McCarty. Very pale and under weight, but always smiling. Could not sit up without being held.

After healing: Bryan gains a half a pound a week ~ 'newborn growth'. He could stand and hold his weight. Always smiling but now healthy.

Go Luisa the Little Daughter of the Divine Will. Here is the big boy with the 'Fat Cat' look. Beyond the doctors wildest dreams Bryan put on weight.

Just in time for the Easter 1998 Bryan was walking! Fiat et Amen. He is shown here with all five of his older sibling; from left to right, back to front, John, Lauren, Mary, Elizabeth, and Kate. After his healing he NEVER had a relapse he only went forward praise be to Jesus.

Never mention the three pink dresses, we have not heard the end of it. Sshhh, please.

Maureen Digan, Bryan, about 3, and Kate Dobak in 1999. Maureen's miracle healing through the intercession of St. Faustina was used as the miracle used to Canonize St. Faustina. Maureen was attending 'Marian Speaks to Her Beloved Son', Father Goobi prayer cenacle. Later she gave a talk on Divine Mercy at the All Saints Catholic Church in Manassas, VA.
